Inauguration of Marwadi University on 9th Nov 2016.

The New Era Of Education has begun...

This Era defines education as the life transforming period for an individual. Marwadi University has received awards and recognition from various governing body and recently the university received the appreciation from the Chief Minister of Gujarat Mr. Vijaybhai Rupani.

How do we define "Education"? Do we relate it to the activity of giving exams and getting grades or it simply means the promotion to higher class every year?, Certainly none of the aforesaid statement. Education from decades has been regarded as the instrument to bring change in the society. It's because of education only that men learned the skill of producing fire and later on inventions kept on going and today we are in the era where education is the oxygen of the successful life. Earlier colleges and universities were only meant for attaining degrees for qualifying the eligibility criteria of jobs, but now the image has completely changed. This era defines education as the life transforming period for an individual. Education in this century means moulding, restructuring, shaping, decorating and thereafter giving a unique identity to the individual. When we talk about our country India, the one name which has been flawless in preparing the scholars for the global challenges, is Marwadi University of Gujarat.

"If your objectives are true, efforts are consistent and hard work is continuous, then you can bring the change in short span of time" and Marwadi University is the perfect example of the same. In very short span of time, the university has received various bright achievements and has made its name among the top university of the Gujarat.

Education at Marwadi is digitalised, structured and incomparable on all parameters. On its inauguration ceremony, 9th of November, 2016, the university has signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with NSE (National Stock Exchange) Academy. Under this collaboration, the students of Marwadi will be given the knowledge about the share market and its components. The university understands that such type of courses are beyond syllabus, therefore merger with the NSE academy would prepare their students to attain a sound position in the financial market of the country. In order to keep step with the country's objective of "Start up India", the Marwadi University has also signed a Mou with the Espark-Viridian Accelerator. This is a great initiative towards supporting start-ups and Entrepreneurships in the college life of the students. This step would turn the unique ideas into business and the same will solve various problems of the society.

The inauguration ceremony was addressed by the Chief Minister of Gujarat, Mr. Vijay Rupani who in his speech said that Marwadi University is creating such talents for the society who will face and win the global challenges. He acknowledged the efforts of entire team of the Marwadi for their contribution of education towards the society. Minister of Education Mr. Bhupendrasinh Chudasama, admired the initiatives of Marwadi University towards the Start-up and Entrepreneurships. The university also inaugurated digital and kindle library on its inauguration ceremony. In the present era digital books has replaced the traditional hard copy books and such a step is the sign of serving quality education to its students. The university also recognise the placed students who have attain successful position in the industry.

Marwadi University has set an example of a different educational world in our country. It has made education technologically driven, digitalised, beyond syllabus and interesting for the students. Marwadi University has attained the top ranking in the world of education industry in very short span of time.
