

ETHICAL COMPLIANCE COMMITTEE

Our university has an Ethical Committee for Faculty Grievances, also called a Faculty Grievance Committee, which is in charge of hearing and resolving complaints and ethical issues brought up by faculty members.

This committee's main goal is to give faculty members a fair and unbiased platform to express their grievances and look for solutions when they feel their rights have been infringed upon or they have been treated unfairly.

The committee oversees processing grievances, keeping the complainants private, resolving disputes, and resolving them. The committee is also in charge of making recommendations on ethical policy.
